

Dwarf Jade Plant

Crassula ovata 'Crosbys Compact'

- I'm a slow-growing, shrubby succulent with beautiful waxy leaves and thick stems.
- My leaves start green when I'm young and will eventually turn a gorgeous red-orange as I grow in bright sunlight.
- Along with bright sun, I like regular watering from spring to autumn (as always, let my soil dry out between watering), but during the winter I only need enough water to keep my leaves from shriveling.
